

HUMAN BEHAVIOR IN MODERN ERA

Balu Bhai BavaBhai Vasba

Human being is the most intelligent and rational animal in the world. If we peep from the evolution to the history 80 far it comes to the knowledge that he had made progress in 80 many fields. With that ;a change has come in his behaviour thinking and attitude. This change of human behaviour is divided in three stages in psychology .

1. Human Behavior in Ancient -era
2. Human Behavior in Middle age
3. Human Behavior in Modern era

In ancient time man lived his life like animal ,every time wandering and used to live in crowd. Slowly and gradually in middle age, he started a settled life instead of wandering life. He expanded his activities like social relations and co-operative activities . He started framing his rules of society He engaged himself in farming food and dwelling arrangements . A study of different aspect of human life . Is made from the tools and instruments of that time . This is known as ancient era { 4000 B.C }.

Keeping faith in religion and to fulfill his needs, he started facing difficulties of life in detail. After entering into the modern era, a change has come in human being's behaviour. Let's see it in detail. Firstly ; a change has come in his behaviour and become self-centered because his deffusion of the knowledge. Due to education a change come in his thinking ability and developed understanding power. He started his development rapidly after inventing scientific gadgets . He also stepped on moon and Saturn from the earth . He showed his power by making an experiment at Thiruvananthpuram about the origin of the earth . Education only is responsible for this.

T .V Movies are also responsible for the change in human behaviour. Now a day, so many TV serials and live shows are being broadcast that affect strongly on man's mind . We learn some technique from Movies, too. The person who is watching TV, follows him and implies it in his life. It is said that a child is more imitative. So after watching TV-movies , he is inspired for stealing [theft] ,loot and murder.

Today ,it is due to the facility of mobile and Internet,we can easily contact in any part of the world which is more beneficial for man. But on the contrary ,terrorists are making use of these facilities in destroying the world . Recently ,the bomb blast in Gujarat , Rajasthan, Maharashtra and Delhi they created fear of death in public. This is called the wrong use of facility. The doctors are using modern technology to save the patients from the dangerous diseases in consultant with the foreign doctor and give a new life to them.

The modernization has totally changed the life style of human being . The man does not like to believe in old cultures , traditions and religion . He has even doubt about the existence of the God. It is must to develop trust in such person's mind. The man has made a blind race for earning money because of information and technology. He is taking interest in international trading instead of getting up at 5 o'clock to get up at 8-9 o'clock, taking fast food in place of milk, and butter milk ; using fans, AC instead of natural air; blind race, continuous tension have naturally changed human behaviour. To be free from all these, he himself has to change his living style.

Religion is also responsible for the change in human behaviour . Religion is something individual in it. The worship of fore-fathers. People of every caste worship and respect their fore-fathers and after some time they start worshiping them like God. It is the opinion of Herbert Panser. But because of the development of science, slowly and gradually, the concept of religion was developed in them and become free from super natural power and superstitions which is due to education . The man who was busy in action and religion started forgetting man and made divisions like he is Hindu he is Muslim, he is Christan etc... We have number of examples of it. The man has changed his behaviour according to his religion.

The man of modern Era is aware about the protection and satisfies his mind. For example, to survive his life, he spent Rs 2000 for his body checkup and yet he has to accept the death. Today, the Gujarat Government has started the service of 108 Mobile Van which takes the patients to the hospital soon without any charge and saves their lives. The same way, by 'Beti Bachavo Abhiyan' we can save the life of the baby who is going to be born.

The government should provide the facility of three necessary things- Chapatti, Cloths and a house to the every citizens of the state, wage in proportionate to the work. The government should create jobs for educated persons. If the man doesn't get the expected work or job, he will approach himself towards looting and terrorism.

In modern era, the man is going in big cities for his bred and better. But in place of earning money, he gets failure. This failure is responsible for changing his behaviour in this competitive time, the man always compares himself with other and when he compares himself with other he become unhappy, changes his relation and mentality. If the man understands his need, becomes self contained, there will not be any change in his behaviour and no problem will be there.

The modern man feels loneliness. It brings changes in his behaviour because he wants to live his own life in his own way. Despite living in the society, he feels solitary. As a result, he loses his temper and becomes resentful and becomes ready to do anything. He becomes the victim of some mental and physical diseases on account of his tense life. These reasons are also responsible for his change in behaviour.

His race towards getting physical happiness becomes responsible for his unwanted expenses and it plays a vital role in changing his behaviour. The man should live the life as per his income. For that, he should change his living style. He should try to regularize his life. He can control his behaviour, if he becomes self-contained.

Tries for Human Attitude in Human Behaviour:

- (1) There should be addition in educational institutions as per National Knowledge Commission's report.
- (2) Use of good lessons in Text-books so as to apply in life.
- (3) Teachers should play a vital role as a leader of the society and do imitated work.
- (4) There must be use of Information and Technology in education and human behaviour.
- (5) To keep control over broadcasting media.
- (6) To discuss the major factors for the development of the man by arranging counsellings in villages.
- (7) To try for good relationship between one another state.
- (8) To do activities to remove discrimination and superstitions from the society so as to awaken the public.
- (9) To put the pictures of deities in educational institutions.

Conclusion: In modern era, the man walks with the clock's hand. He feels dearth of time, high expectations and hence changes his behaviour. His such behaviour is like a flowing river which will flow with the fluctuations of time. It may be called man's global change.
